

Comment 1

02-02-07 10:28am

Name: Teresa ChangCity: Beijing*Organisation: Huahe consulting*Country: China

It's well known that 20% of the surveyed stakeholders objected the project when the environmental impact assessment report was done. Although they did not take major position in all the surveyed stakeholders and the report was approved by the government(as the project is a governmental request), they should be presented in the PDD with how due account was taken to each of the objectors